Commissioners select consultant for plan

BY BOB DEMAREE

A consultant has been selected by the County Commissioners for an infrastructure master plan although the contract has not yet been officially finalized.

Commissioner David Bramer announced at Thursday's Commissioners meeting that American Structurepoint of Indianapolis has been selected.

Bramer said the purpose of the infrastructure master plan is to give ideas on things that would need to be done if people are interested in developing certain areas of the county.

"We're trying to highlight two, maybe three locations in the county" in considering long-term "for having a plan for what the county should look for as far as areas where more than likely in the future are going to be developed," he said, adding the focus would mostly be residential development. "This is to have something ready to identify as we talk to developers about what's needed and what's there."

Bramer said he expects the contract to soon be finalized, and then determine American Structurepoint's cost.

In other business:

- Held a public hearing to modify the Jefferson County Revolving Loan program into a program that grants award with no loan repayment for which the Commissioners also approved a resolution.

The Revolving Loan program was established in 2020 during the COVID-19 pandemic for small businesses to retain low-to-moderate income jobs. The county received a $250,000 grant from the Indiana Office of Community and Rural Affairs to which the county added $50,000 for a total of $300,000.

The Revolving Loan program was set up over 48 months with the small business owners paying back the loans with 0% interest in monthly payments. If after two years they were in good standing, then half the money was repaid and the other half forgiven. With the money coming back to the county, those funds have been used for additional rounds of loans.

Brian Amick, the county's grant writer/archivist, said there have now been three rounds of the revolving loans, and if it continues under the same manner, it will still be going in 2031. He said with there being considerable administrative work required, "we want to find a way to put an end to it" in a quicker timeframe, which can be achieved through grant awards that do not have to be repaid.

• Building inspector Josh Cline provided an update on two properties owned by Arlie Colvin in Kent— 8225 West Kent State Road 256 and 8231 West Kent State Road 256 — that were destroyed by fire on Nov. 27, 2022. Because there has been little progress on cleanup, Cline submitted two quotes for cleanup if paid for by the county — one for $15,000 and one for $18,500. Cline said he has attempted to contact Colvin recently with no response but he did receive a letter from Colvin that stated he doesn't have the finances to do the cleanup. The Commissioners agreed that Colvin should be sent a certified letter that cleanup efforts will begin by the county. Cline said the neighbors have been upset about the condition of the properties and he has received a petition with several signatures and 50 letters insisting that it be cleaned up.

• Cline also updated about a property owned by Greg Jones at 4747 West Foltz Road, Dupont, which is the former Middlefork Christian Church in Lancaster Township that he said has "collapsed on itself." He said progress is being made with two dumpster loads being taken out in the last week. Cline said it's "about 40% cleaned up. That one looks hopeful."

• Reneisha Rudder, Southeastern Indiana Regional Planning Commission economic resiliency coordinator for digital inclusion, presented the Commissioners with a draft proposal for duties and expectations for the county's Broadband Taskforce.

• Bramer expects the Commissioners will publish a request for proposal within the week for project submittals for developing a design for a potential new building for the Jefferson County Animal Shelter. He said American Rescue Plan funds will be used to pay for the design along with a $3,100 grant from Dow Chemical.

• Amick said Commissioner meeting minutes are now on the county's public portal back to 1900 as work continues to move information there. There are also election results back to 1994 and County Council minutes back to 1957.

• County Highway Superintendent Bobby Phillips said progress is being made on improving the poor condition of County 925N in Shelby Township, addressing some of the issues with the road now and then working to address other in a greater way in the spring.

Bench dedication, grave marking gears toward Semiquicentennial

BY BOB DEMAREE

With less than two years until the nation's Semiquicentennial, a bench dedication and patriot grave marking was held Saturday at Madison's John Paul Park.

"We wanted to do something to celebrate the 250th anniversary (of the 1776 United States Declaration of Independence), and this is what we decided," said Ann Roller, regent of the John Paul Chapter of the Indiana Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She said the bench was installed in the spring and since then the local DAR and the Clifty Creek Chapter of the Indiana Society of Sons of the American Revolution have been planning the dedication ceremony that was attended by special guests from Indiana DAR, Indiana SAR, Kentucky SAR and others.

The bench was paid for by the local DAR and SAR chapters with the city providing the base and the bench installed by a monument company.

The event also recognizes five patriots who fought for the nation and are thought to be buried in unknown locations in Jefferson County. Their names were engraved in the granite under the bench.

Mayor Bob Courtney said, "This is a moving celebration for me. What I have heard today is a lot about what it means to be an American. We don't hear that often enough ... In the city of Madison, we're surrounded by our history. I have lived here all my life and I wouldn't want to live anywhere else. Madison and Jefferson County, the men and women who lived here always answered the call to duty ... Thank you to all our veterans who have literally stood up for us in America."

Elaine Sholty, state regent, Indiana DAR, said the DAR and SAR are bound together in a common goal of sharing

Morgan & Nay receives NFDA's Pinnacle Award

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Morgan & Nay Funeral Centre has been named recipient of the Richard Myers Pinnacle Award for 2024, the highest honor bestowed by the National Funeral Directors Association (NFDA).

Only three other funeral homes nationwide have received the accolade since its inception seven years ago.

In its announcement last week, NFDA noted the Pursuit of Excellence Task Force only confers the distinction when it identifies a funeral home that exemplifies "deep-rooted dedication to families and community, innovation, unwavering commitment to excellence and service in the profession."

Funeral homes do not apply for the award but are nominated by a panel of judges based on Pursuit of Excellence entries submitted annually by applicants.

A funeral home must meet and document a minimum of 27 criteria as the first requirement to qualify for Pursuit of Excellence consideration, categories that range from exemplary customer service, After-Care outreach, ethics, professional development, creativity, compliance with state and federal regulations and community involvement. According to the organization's website, the stringent criteria ensures each recipient observes the highest of NFDA standards.

In addition, the business has to elaborate on one endeavor that enhances the image of the profession, inspires other funeral homes to replicate the idea and benefits the community. Morgan & Nay's 2024 selection focused on the company's recent involvement and support for local suicide prevention and awareness.

NFDA will officially present Nay with the NFDA Richard Myers Pinnacle Award at its international convention in New Orleans in October.

Established in 1997, Morgan & Nay also has garnered national NFDA recognition three other times, in addition to 11 consecutive Pursuit of Excellence distinctions (2014-2024). The company Day Trip Series was a finalist for "Best of Best" honors in 2016. The Moffett Cemetery Gravel Drive secured honorable mention status in "Best of Best" category in 2019. Morgan & Nay was inducted into the NFDA Hall of Fame at the international convention in Las Vegas in 2023.

Fundraising for River's Edge sculpture at 22% of $50,000 goal

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Twenty-seven days remain to raise $50,000 on the crowd funding platform Patronicity for the River's Edge sculpture to be located at the Madison Gateway. As of Monday morning $11,025 — slightly more than 22% of the goal — has been achieved toward the Oct. 8 deadline.

The River's Edge is a public-private partnership between the City of Madison's Public Arts Commission, Madison Area Arts Alliance (MAAA) and community donors. The sculpture will be located in the Gateway Park at the foot of the U.S. 421 Milton/Madison Bridge.

River's Edge, designed by Indiana artist Beverly Stucker Precious, uses rusticated metal to represent Madison's rich history, stainless steel representing Madison's robust future, and colorful dichromic glass, which changes with the sunlight, representing the picturesque Ohio River. The sculpture is ever-changing depending on the sunlight it reflects.

This sculpture will be the center piece of the Milton/Madison Gateway Project and the City of Madison's efforts to revitalize the entrance to the city as well as to the state of Indiana.

Patronicity provides the final funding portion for the project. When the goal is met, the Indiana Housing Community Development Authority through the CreatINg Places program matches the goal one to one so every dollar donated will double.

"Patronicity is a great way for everyone to be a part of public art and support big meaningful projects, this is exciting," said MAAA Executive Director Kim Nyberg.

Recent Madison projects receiving funding through the Patronicity platform include the Kindness Mural and adjacent colorful murals at Second and Mulberry Street, and the Madison Tennis/Pickle ball Courts on the west end of downtown Madison.

"This campaign is a bit larger than the Kindness Mural project, but no doubt when completed, this art piece will be a beautiful centerpiece to the Bridge Gateway on the east end," said Nyberg.

"The challenge is to meet our goal through a combination of public and private donations that will create this new artistic statement. I have always said that our community is a place where you can have a dream and see that dream come true — just like the Kindness Mural, this is one of those times."

Donations can be made through a direct link to Patronicity on the MAAA website www.madisonareaart.org and click on the River's Edge Patronicity Donate button or go directly to www.patronicity.com/project/rivers_edge_gateway_sculpture#/! Or donate to the project at the SPOT- Madison Area Arts Alliance at 326 Mulberry Street, Madison, IN 47250.

Balloon Glow returns to Madison on Sunday

BY THE COURIER STAFF

For the second year in a row, the Balloon Glow is coming to Madison riverfront on the grounds in front of Riverboat Inn, 906 East First St., this Sunday at 6 p.m.

The Balloon Glow is an event in which hot air balloons are inflated as if they were going to take off, but instead of being allowed to ascend, they are tethered to the ground with the propane burners ignited periodically to keep the balloons inflated and provide a spectacular display of lights and colors for spectators.

Weather permitting, there will be tethered rides from 6-9 p.m. at a cost of $15. Rides are available on a first-come, first-serve basis. The tethered rides will simulate a balloon ride in which the balloon is secured to ground support. Glow balloons will start inflating around dusk, weather permitting, with the balloon glow taking place approximately 8:30-9 p.m.

Vaughn Drive will be closed to traffic from the bridge to the Riverboat Inn entrance. There will be people and signs to direct visitors to parking areas that will be available in the grass area below Vaughn Drive. Food trucks will be available on the lawn.

The Balloon Glow is an official Madison Regatta event that was postponed by weather earlier this summer.

Ky. schools close as police search for gunman who wounded 5 people on I-75

BY BRUCE SCHREINER
ASSOCIATED PRESS

LONDON, Ky. — More than a dozen school districts shut down Monday across a wide swath of southeastern Kentucky as a grueling search stretched into a third day for a gunman who opened fire on an interstate highway and wounded five people over the weekend.

Searchers have been combing the rugged, hilly area since Saturday evening, when a gunman began shooting at drivers on Interstate 75 near London, a small city of about 8,000 people about 75 miles south of Lexington.

"We're not going to quit until we do lay hands on him," Laurel County Sheriff John Root said, with the search area covering thousands of acres.

Joseph A. Couch, 32, was named a suspect in the shooting after authorities recovered his SUV on a service road near the crime scene. They later found a semiautomatic weapon nearby that they believe was used in the shooting, said Deputy Gilbert Acciardo, a spokesperson for the sheriff's office.

Christina DiNoto, who witnessed the shooting Saturday while driving on I-75, said Monday that it weighed heavily on her mind.

"To know that he's still at large — that makes me nervous, honestly," she said.

DiNoto, an IT project manager, said the shooting also unlocked a new kind of fear, "like you have to be scared to even just drive on the highways."

Authorities vowed to keep up a relentless pursuit of the gunman in the densely wooded area as local residents worried about where the shooter might turn up next.

Administrators in Rockcastle County, just north of where the shooting took place, closed for the day, as did Knox County to the south. Classes also were canceled at three regional college campuses.

Donna Hess, who lives 10 miles from the shooting scene in rural Laurel County, agreed with the decision to close schools there. Both of her children, a first grader and preschooler, normally take the bus.

"I'd be afraid he'd try to hijack the bus and take the kids as hostages," Hess said. "I'm worried about everybody because they don't know where he's at. I'm hoping they catch him soon. We don't know what he's capable of right now."

Katie Patel, who works at a London motel, brought her 7-year-old son with her because schools were closed. Even he was worried about his 2-year-old sister when she went off to day care.

"He was questioning me: 'Is she going to be safe?'" Patel said.

Meanwhile, downtown London appeared to be nearly deserted.

"Normally this street would be very busy," Sharee St. Louis Smith said while taking a smoke break from her job in adult education. "It's just been a lot quieter than we're used to seeing."

Capt. Richard Dalrymple of the Laurel County Sheriff's Office said authorities are doing everything they can.

"The longer we continue, and the more area we clear and the more places we are sure he is not, the safer people are going to be," he said. "And I'm confident eventually we'll figure it out and we'll find him."

State police Master Trooper Scotie Pennington, a spokesman for the London post, said troopers are being brought in from across the state to aid in the search focused on a remote area about 8 miles north of London. He described the extensive search area as "walking in a jungle" with machetes needed to cut through thickets.

Couch most recently lived in Woodbine, a small community about 20 miles south of the shooting scene. Authorities said he purchased the weapon and about 1,000 rounds of ammunition Saturday morning in London.

Couch served in the National Guard for at least four years, Dalrymple said. The U.S. Army said in a statement that Couch was in the Army Reserve from March 2013 to January 2019 as a combat engineer who was a private when he left and had no deployments.

Authorities said the shooter fired 20 to 30 rounds, striking 12 vehicles on the interstate Saturday. DiNoto, 39, was driving through Kentucky with a friend on her way back to Houston after visiting relatives in Rochester, New York, when they heard a loud noise Saturday and assumed a rock had hit her back windshield. Her friend wondered whether it was gunshots, but they quickly dismissed the possibility.

The driver of a truck in the next lane slumped over and pulled to the side of the road, but DiNoto assumed the cause was something like a tire blowout. They saw first responders barreling down the highway but didn't realize there'd been a shooting until the friend's dad called to check on them 90 minutes later.

"We were in the middle of nowhere, Kentucky, and it was just like, what? Somebody was on an overpass shooting AR-15 at us?" DiNoto said.

Acciardo said authorities found Couch's abandoned vehicle Saturday and an AR-15 rifle on Sunday in a wooded area near a highway where "he could have shot down upon the interstate." A phone believed to be Couch's was also found by law enforcement, but the battery had been taken out.

Specially trained officers were deployed through the night in strategic locations in the woods to prevent the shooter from slipping through, he said.

"We've got to get him," Acciardo said.

Phillips resigns as County Highway Superintendent

BY BOB DEMAREE

Bobby Phillips, superintendent of the Jefferson County Highway Department, announced his resignation at Thursday's County Commissioners meeting after nearly nine years in that position and 27 years working for the county highway department.

Phillips said his last day will be Friday, Oct. 18, before he moves on to a new job at FPBH Inc., a civil engineering, environmental, surveying, planning and inspecting firm located in North Vernon, Seymour and New Castle.

Phillips' role with FPBH will in business development, construction inspection and grant writing for CCMG (Community Crossings Matching Grant) applications and working out of the North Vernon office.

A resident in the Dupont area, Phillips noted the drive to work in North Vernon will be very similar to what his commute has been to the Jefferson County Highway Department, just that he will be going north instead of south.

"It's been an absolute pleasure to serve you guys," Phillips said in making his announcement public at the Commissioners' meeting six weeks prior to his last day. "I didn't want to give you a two-week notice and hit the door because there are way too many responsibilities to fulfill and there are a lot of projects I want to see completed."

Phillips said after he leaves his county position, he will make himself available to the county to help wherever he can, particularly with the infrastructure master plan. "I'm still a resident of Jefferson County. I still want to serve in whatever capacity," he said. "I want what's best for Jefferson County."

"You have been very good for our county," Commissioner Ron Lee said, with commissioners David Bramer and Bobby Little each adding their appreciation.

Phillips, 54, is a 1989 graduate of Madison Consolidated High School who started working at the county highway department on Sept. 27, 1997 as a general laborer. He worked his way up to truck driver and operator, and then became highway superintendent in December 2015, replacing Darrell Gayle after Gayle retired.

"There have been a lot of good memories," Phillips said of his time as highway superintendent. "One of the greatest things I brought to the county is well over $14 million in grants."

Madison battles down to the wire in loss

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

MC L A R K S V I L L E adison's defense was dominate all night and the Cubs had the ball with a chance to win in the final minute in a close 13-8 loss at Class A No. 2 Providence on Friday.

Like last week's loss to South Dearborn, the Madison defense stymied the Pioneer offense at nearly every turn with only a pair drives in the second and fourth quarters leading to any points.

That was nearly enough to allow the Cubs to pull off the upset. Madison scored on a long touchdown run late and was driving for the winning score with 33 seconds to go when an interception ended the threat.

While Madison coach Charles Benintende was thrilled with his team's effort, he also felt like his team gave a win away.

"We put a lot of effort into the defense, and we knew the offense was going to take a little bit of time to get where it needed to be," Benintende said. "I felt we were a little bit fresher than they were at the end of the game, so we didn't have enough time on the clock to grind it out and run the ball. I think if we were had two, three minutes to go in the game, I think we would have won it, because we could have run it down their throats a little bit."

With both defenses playing at the top of their games, neither offense came close to scoring in the first quarter. Providence (3-0) finally broke the stalemate late in the second quarter when the Pioneers drove down to the 2-yard line and quarterback Preston Kempf rushed the ball himself to give his team a 7-0 lead with 4:38 left in the half.

Madison (1-2) answered that score with its best drive of the game, highlighted by a 30-yard pitch and catch from quarterback Matt McCarty to Quincy Reynolds that took the Cubs down to the Providence 2-yard line with 33 seconds left in the half.

But a fumble on the very next play killed the drive and Madison went into the locker room down seven.

"We were set up really well there before the end of the half and then we had the fumble," Benintende said. "I think we were ready to punch it in."

Providence added an insurance touchdown on the first play of the fourth quarter — a 7-yard run by Kempf although the extra point was blocked — that proved to be huge, especially after Jake Dyer weaved his way for a 45-yard touchdown run midway through the fourth quarter for an exciting touchdown. Joseph Stanley added the two-point run and the lead was cut the 13-8 with 8:57 to go.

Switzerland rolls over Trimble to remain unbeaten

BY ADAM PIETRYKOWSKI

The 2024 football season has been good to the Switzerland County Pacers and Friday night's game in Bedford, Kentucky, was no exception. The Pacers continued their torrid start by crushing Trimble County 41-0 on a night that saw a running clock instituted in the first half.

Coach Ryan Jesop's Pacers have had a remarkable run so far this season, outscoring their opponents by a combined score of 135-6 to improve to 3-0 for the second-straight season.

There were a variety of stats that highlight the one-sided nature of Friday's game, but probably the most startling were provided by the defense. The Pacer defenders did not allow a positive yard to Trimble County in the first quarter, and did not allow a first down until just three minutes remained in the first half with the Pacers leading 35-0 and a running clock in effect.

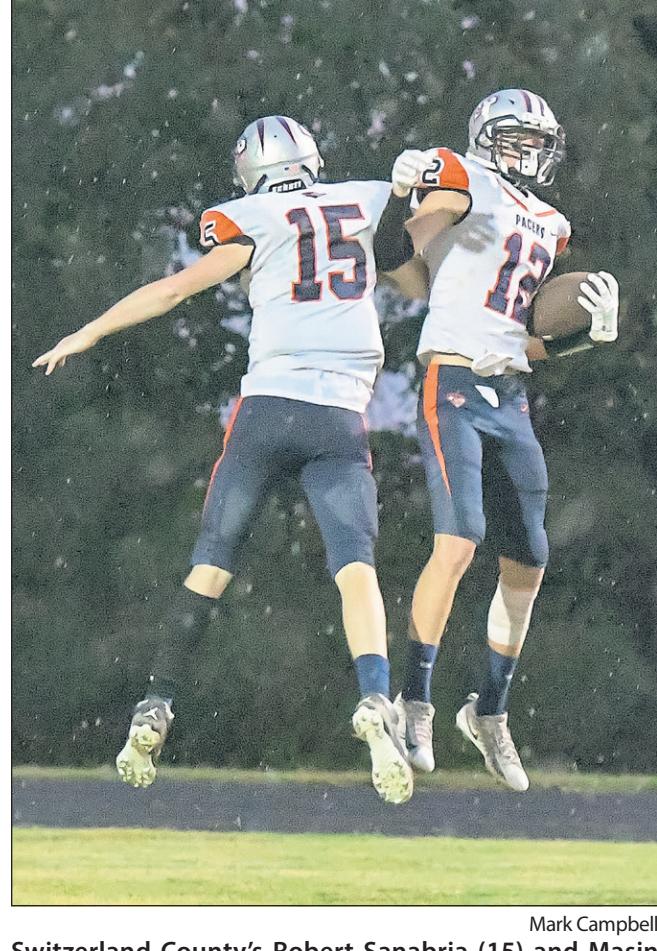

"Our players are doing an extremely good job of communicating on the field and trusting what we have coached them up on all week," Switzerland County defensive coordinator Matt Longville said. "It makes our job easy on the sideline when they execute and tackle the way they did tonight."

Offensively the Pacers (3-0) had six scoring drives on the evening, and each drive found the end zone in three plays or less.

Trimble County lineman Lane Sachleben (56) battles to block Switzerland County's Ethan Weaver (44) as Weaver and Robert Sanabria (15) chase after Raiders quarterback Ethan Keller (1) during Friday's game in Bedford. The Swiss defense pitched a shutout over Trimble, leading 35-0 at halftime en route to a 41-0 win.

Switzerland County's Robert Sanabria (15) and Mason Stroud (12) celebrate in the end zone after Stroud's touchdown catch with 8:15 left in the first half that gave the Pacers a commanding 27-0 lead en route to a 41-0 win. Switzerland improved to 3-0 on the season.

to compete against," Jesop said. "We are excited to give them our best effort next week."

Meanwhile, the Raiders managed just three first downs on the night offensively. Trimble is now 0-3, and while Friday's loss was the Raiders' first shutout, Trimble has been outscored 145-22 on the season.

The highlight of the night for Trimble came on special teams when the Raiders made a big push after a Swiss score with 8:15 left in the first half and Briley Clifford got a hand up to block the PAT.

Trimble will now visit Owen County on Saturday, Sept. 14, in a game slated to kickoff at 8 p.m.

Carroll County falls to Bethlehem, 43-8

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Carroll County football dropped to 0-3 on the season with a 43-8 loss at Bethlehem on Friday in Bardstown, Kentucky.

Carroll was limited to just 130 total yards in the game.

Quarterback Parker Mumphrey had 56 yards rushing and a touchdown to lead the Panthers and was 2-for-6 passing for 12 yards.

Hunter Angell had 46 yards rushing.

Case Dermon had 10

tackles, including one for loss, to lead the Carroll defense. Karson Vaught had seven tackles and Bryson Chadwell had six tackles, two for loss.

The Panthers were coming off essentially a bye week but not the kind a program wants to have. Carroll was forced to forfeit its game with Kentucky Country Day 1-0 a week earlier due to illness and injury that left the Panthers unable to play.

Carroll now hosts Madison on Friday.

Shawe rallies to beat Southwestern 2-1

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Shaw spotted Class A No. 20 Southwestern an early lead but rallied to claim a tough 2-1 win in boys soccer Thursday in Hanover.

Southwestern scored in the second minute when Kaedon Higgins put in a shot off a perfect pass from Henry Knauer for a 1-0 lead.

But Shaw didn't buckle and tied the game in the 15th minute when Rodrigo Reyes-Miranda slid a pass to Gus Grote to knot the score 1-1 at halftime.

Both teams were awarded penalty kicks in the second half with a chance to take the lead. Southwestern's opportunity came in the 50th minute but that attempt hit the post, Shaw keeper Dylan Fitzpatrick and the crossbar but did not go in to preserve the 1-1 tie.

Playing with just 10 men after a second yellow card led to a soft red, Shawe finally broke through with the game-winner in the 62nd minute when a handball in the box gave the Hilltoppers their own penalty kick try. Reyes-Miranda stepped up and confidently put the shot past the keeper to give Shawe the 2-1 lead and the short-handed Hilltopper defense was able to secure the tough road win.

On Friday, Southwestern rolled to a 7-1 win at Rising Sun.

Knauer erupted for six goals to lead the Rebels while Angel Hernandez had a goal, Higgins had two assists and Connor Johnson had an assist.

Shaw, now 4-3 overall and 3-0 Ohio River Valley Conference, hosts Switzerland County on Monday and travels to Milan on Tuesday.

Southwestern, now 4-2 overall and 4-1 ORVC, hosts Southwestern (Shelby) on Friday.

Rourke leads IU to 77-3 win over Western Illinois

BY MICHAEL MAROT
ASSOCIATED PRESS

BLOOMINGTON — Indiana coach Curt Cignetti sent a message to his players this week.

He expected them to play their brand of football — from start to finish. They delivered in a record-breaking way.

Kurtis Rourke threw two touchdown passes and ran for another score — all in the first half Friday night — as the Indiana Hoosiers broke the school's single-game scoring record with a 77-3 rout of Western Illinois that didn't exactly come by design.

"I was trying to get a lot of people into the game. We were trying to run there and I wanted to give the third quarterback a chance to throw it once, so we did what we could to keep (the score) down," Cignetti said. "But I didn't want them to play down to their standard and I thought we responded (to the message) really well."

How lopsided was it?

The Hoosiers (2-0) broke the previous mark of 76 points, set in a shutout of Franklin College in 1901, on the extra point after Charlie Becker's 3-yard TD run with 9:10 to play. They also set a school record with 701 total yards and the margin was second all-time behind only that game against Franklin.

Cignetti also became the fourth Indiana coach since 1948 to win his first two games at the school.

Western Illinois (0-2) extended the longest losing streak in Division I football to 26 straight. The Leathernecks' last win came Oct. 30, 2021.

This one was never close. Indiana scored TDs on each of its first six possessions, produced 415 yards on 38 plays in the first half and led 42-3 at halftime.

Rourke, the 2022 Mid-American Conference Offensive Player of the Year, was sensational in his second game with Indiana. He finished 15-of-17 passing for 268 yards, while rushing three times for 13 yards. Justice Ellison ran nine times for 117 yards and two TDs. Elijah Sarratt caught six passes for 137 yards, including a 71-yard TD.

"He was pretty sharp and the receivers were making plays," Cignetti said.

Anderson Coby got the scoring started with a 38-yard TD catch on the fifth play of the game. Ellison's 2-yard TD run made it 14-0 before Sarratt's long scoring play. And Ty Son Lawton's 19-yard TD run gave Indiana a 28-0 lead late in the first quarter.

Western Illinois' only score came on a 31-yard field goal in the final minute of the first half.

"It's unfortunate to get off to such a slow start here for two weeks in a row and not generate any momentum on either side of the ball," Western Illinois coach Joe Davis said. "It just puts us in such a massive hole early that is hard to dig yourself out of."

Ellison sealed it with a 47-yard TD run to open the second-half scoring and kicker Nicolas Radicic's record-breaking 11th extra point of the game gave Indiana the scoring mark.

"I thought we played physical, with a nasty attitude and we were never satisfied," Cignetti said.

THE TAKEAWAY

Western Illinois: This season certainly has not started well for the only active FBS or FCS team with two straight winless seasons. Both of this season's losses came in blowouts, and the Leathernecks have lost eight of their last nine games by 39 or more points.

Indiana: The Hoosiers are off to a solid start that has been helped by a soft early-season schedule. Things get much tougher next week in their Big Ten opener at UCLA.

POWER OUTAGE

It wasn't just Western Illinois lacking power Friday night. During warmups at halftime, both of the stadium's scoreboards faded to black. After a short delay, the refs announced they would keep the official time on the field. A few minutes later, the scoreboards rebooted, showing about 10 1/2 minutes left in the third quarter.

Sellers throws 2 TD as Gamecocks shut down UK

BY GARY B. GRAVES
ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEXINGTON, Ky. — LaNorris Sellers threw two touchdown passes, Nick Emmanwori returned one of South Carolina's two interceptions for another score and the Gamecocks held Kentucky to just 183 yards for a 31-6 victory to open Southeastern Conference play on Saturday.

Raheim Sanders rushed for a 21-yard touchdown late in the third quarter to help break the game open for South Carolina (2-0) in the SEC's lone head-to-head matchup.

For one week, the Gamecocks sit atop the expanded 16-team league and can thank their opportunistic defense for helping make it possible in the nationally televised game.

ers, who threw TD passes of 24 yards to wide-open Mazeo Bennett Jr. in the first quarter and 16 to Joshua Simon in the third to make 17-6.

Sellers completed 11 of 15 for 159 yards with an interception to lead an offense that gained just 252 yards but did what it had to.

TURNING POINT

Kentucky seemed to gain footing with consecutive field goals to get within 10-6 just before halftime, the second coming off Ty Bryant's interception. South Carolina took control on its second possession of the third quarter and scored consecutive TDs, the first of which was helped by a huge offside call on the Wildcats' Octavius Oxendine on fourth and 1 at midfield that extended the drive. Sellers' TD pass to Simon soon followed for a double-digit lead.

"I just said to (offensive coordinator) Dowell (Loggains), 'let's run whatever we call it, let's just take a look at that and see if we can get him to jump," Beamer said, "and we were able to."

KEY TAKEAWAY

South Carolina continued its fierce defensive play with a backfield presence that harassed Brock Vandagriff early and often and blew up other plays before they could develop. That helped Sellers' early touchdown stand long enough for the Gamecocks to add another TD coming out of the break.

Kentucky struggled in most every phase and has a lot to correct before facing Georgia.

Even before losing left guard Jager Burton and right tackle Gerald Mincey to injuries, the offensive line struggled to protect Vandagriff and never got the passing game going. Demie Sumo-Karngbaye rushed 17 times for 70 of the Wildcats' 139 yards, but the Wildcats couldn't reach the end zone.

The Wildcats were 3 of 14 on third down and failed on both fourth-down chances.

New mom feels guilty over late thanks

Dear Eric: In spite of my best intentions, I have unfortunately been a poor gift receiver as of late. I had my first baby last year, and my family and friends blessed me so deeply as we prepared to receive him. I had not one, not two, but three(!) lovely showers given.

I truly did my best to keep up with thank-you notes. I sent out the notes for the first shower within 30 days. The next shower, I sent out thank-yous to the hosts and got through most of the guests. Then, I had the baby.

For the third shower, given two weeks before I gave birth, I honestly cannot even remember if I sent out a thank-you to my lovely hostesses. I know I bought cards to do so.

It has been nine months now. The only reason I think I can even attempt this now is because my baby has recently started sleeping through the night, which affords me evening hours I didn't previously have. I am truly ashamed of my tardiness but do still want to send my gratitude as I have been thankful every day in my heart for the clothes, supplies and support they offered. Do you think it is appropriate to express an apology along with my thanks in these notes? And if so, how?

— Late but Grateful

Dear Grateful: The way you write to me, a stranger, is so filled with gratitude, authenticity and warmth that I can't imagine a friend getting a thank-you note from you and feeling anything but joy, no matter how late it is.

You had a baby! Your life was turned upside down. You haven't slept in nine months. You don't have to offer an apology, but I think it would put your mind at ease. So, try this: "I hope you'll accept this heartfelt thank you much later than I intended to send it. The whirlwind of life with a new baby was a lot to handle. Please know that the tardiness doesn't reflect how grateful I am, as I have been thankful every day in my heart." (I used some of your words; they're so lovely!)

Your family and friends aren't standing by the mailbox, tapping their toes. I'm sure they'll be happy to hear from you, but don't feel like you have to over-apologize. I declare amnesty!

Dear Eric: My husband and I have an active sex life. But, after sex, he says "thank you." I know he appreciates it, but I feel a bit cheap after hearing him say that. I would prefer something like "I love you." I've told him that, but he doesn't seem to understand. Am I being petty, or should I expect more?

— No Thank You

Dear No Thank You: "Thank you" is sweet, but if it feels less like pillow talk and more like you just tipped a pizza delivery driver, then it's not doing what he wants it to do. Good sex is about good communication as much as anything else. So, he needs to hear what you're saying and respond in kind, even if he doesn't understand it.

Tell him what you want. "I know what you mean when you say, 'Thank you,' but it means so much more to me if you say, 'I love you.' Can we try that tonight and see how that feels?"

Dear Eric: A high school acquaintance recently passed away, and the first thought that came into my mind was what a bully he was to me. We did meet later on in life, and he was pleasant but, still, the fact that he bullied me was my first thought and how I remember him.

I can think of people offhand that I didn't treat the best and I don't want to be remembered negatively. I have been looking forward since then and have worked to treat my current acquaintances and friends with patience and respect, but I'm wondering if it's worth it to go back and apologize for the behavior of these past incidents.

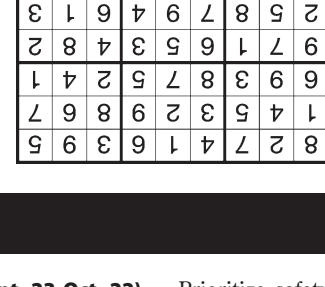

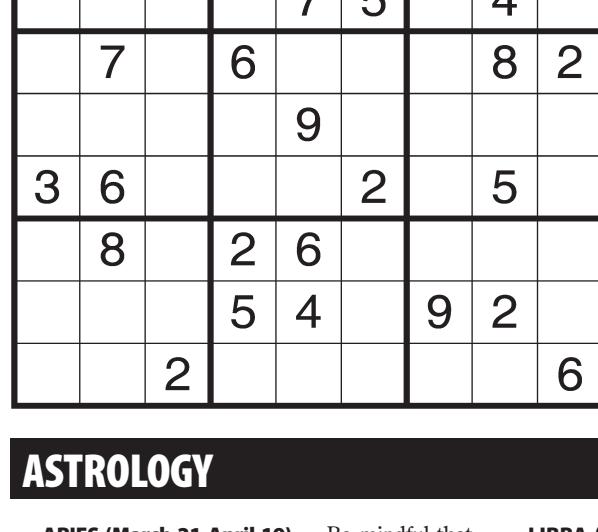

— Want to be Remembered Positively

Dear Positively: That old adage is true: you never get a second chance to make a good first impression. But an opposite sentiment deserves some love, too: it's rarely too late to change a lasting impression.

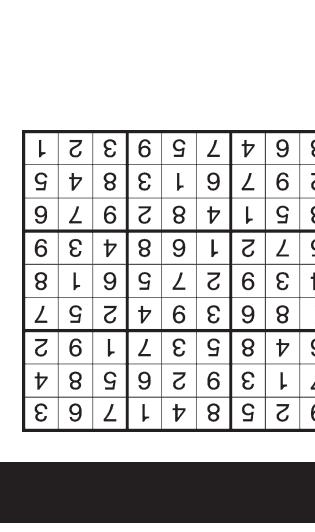

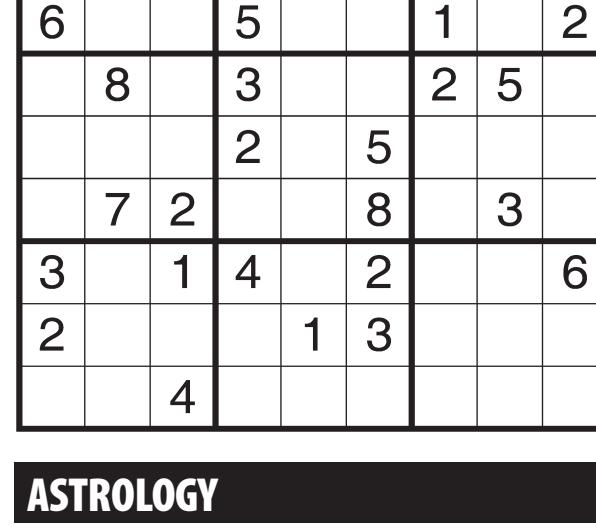

Reach out to the people you feel you've wronged, acknowledge what you did and how it must have affected them and ask how you can help rectify it. It's important that you're coming from a place of wanting to make amends. You can't do this just so that people won't say mean things at your funeral. It should be, at least in part, altruistic and motivated by a desire to right what you set wrong.

Now, regardless of your intent, these people may not see things the same way you did. Maybe it didn't bother them at all. Maybe they're not in a place of forgiveness. But you lose nothing by trying.

ASTROLOGY

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — Be mindful that people develop well-respected reputations by keeping their promises and honoring their responsibilities. Consider taking your time if diving headfirst into any new trend, or spending extra money to gain influence.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — When your garden is blooming, enjoy smelling the fruits of your labor. Consider spending your funds on something worthwhile when money is plentiful. Flexibility may allow you to find something advantageous about a change in plans.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Allow good deeds and acts of goodwill to naturally occur, genuinely surprising others. Prioritizing sincere compliments and casual assurances could give the best results. It may benefit you to have an optimistic approach in your endeavors.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — You might not be able to reach one of your long-term goals or objectives by impulsively spending money now, even if your friends are encouraging you. Patience and common sense are some of the key virtues to concentrate on.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — You have earned the right to think for yourself. While others don't truly dictate your views or opinions, you might occasionally agree just to maintain harmony. Make moves that work to your advantage without letting anyone down.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Enormous opportunity may soon come your way. Your instinct might steer you down a different path than expected. Lean into your intuition and honor when you need to relax and take it easy versus when you could be making your move.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — Prioritize safety and wellbeing. You may have a natural yearning for security and exercising caution when doing things especially when you have a task on your schedule. Putting responsibility before pleasure might be your superpower.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — Be careful what you wish for because it may not be reversible. New people or experiences could be exciting but might disrupt your plans. The thoughts and opinions you make public could have unforeseen consequences.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — Fear not your passion project seems to be crumbling before your eyes. Muster up the courage to put those shattered pieces back together stronger than ever. Embrace challenges like a cosmic puzzle with a happy ending.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — You're quick-witted and may feel more on top of the latest trends than the average person. It may not be just your intellect that will make a difference. Spread goodwill generously, and you could get the response or outcome you desire.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — The thrill may lie in the chase when romance is on your mind. You might be surprised by unexpected results if you make your move. You could receive some extra attention and recognition for your skillfulness and good deeds.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — Stay sharp and stay true. Kindness is a key to having successful relationships, but so is making time for one another. Demonstrating pride in your tasks and responsibilities could make someone stop taking your affections and care for granted.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — You never know what's inside a chocolate candy until you take a bite. Outward appearances can be deceiving, and what lies beneath might be much more delightful than anticipated. Don't judge anything or anyone by what's on the outside.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — Your enthusiasm may be enhanced by exciting activities. Routine tasks might feel fulfilling, possibly leaving you with a sense of restlessness. You may have an urge to go overboard or to promise more than you can deliver.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Don't take on more than you can handle. While it may feel great to be helpful, you might offer to solve a problem beyond your expertise or capability. It's perfectly okay to ask for support when you're unsure of your next step.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — A hopeful dream may seem like the answer to all your problems. Consider taking a closer look to examine the fine print of something that appears to be a good deal at first glance. A sharp partner or companion may keep you on point.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — Be careful not to take credit for things you haven't yet received. Your ability to forgive could be exceptionally rapid and strong. You might let challenges to your authority pass by without fully addressing the issues at hand.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Take a moment to savor the simple joys in life. Informal environments are where you may feel most comfortable. You might look like a million dollars in a nice outfit or expensive shoes, but you may feel far more at ease in casual wear.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — Old desires may no longer resonate. It's never too late to start building new goals and dreams that are more aligned to your current self. Taking care of your wants and needs might allow you to help others or act as a generous benefactor.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — The more you care, the more you share. You might be hopeful and excited by the possibility of something new or on pins and needles about an upcoming change. Don't let loved ones and their needs be forgotten in the hustle and bustle.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — Your enthusiasm can be contagious and is likely to set off sparks of friendliness with interesting new people. By offering a helping hand to someone in need, you can gain lots of gratitude and positive karma in your life.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Revisit your task list. Consider taking some time to catch up on your reading backlog to gain further insights into your goals. Someone could ask for advice or might influence your opinions by appealing to your levelheaded nature.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — Be careful of unknowingly overspending. You might find yourself splurging when buying in bulk, thinking you're managing your finances wisely. It may be wise to do some research beforehand to make your tasks easier.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — Learn to take responsibility, whether things go right or go wrong. Others may not be ready to own up to their part. You might reach a turning point in your belief system as you begin to reflect and refine your viewpoints and ideals.

Espinal's 2-run double lifts Reds over Mets 3-1

NEW YORK — Santago Espinal hit a tie-breaking, two-run double in the ninth inning to lift the Cincinnati Reds to a 3-1 victory and snap the New York Mets' nine-game winning streak on Sunday.

Minutes after the Mets lost, the Atlanta Braves beat the Toronto Blue Jays 4-3 to move into a tie with New York for the final National League playoff berth.

Both teams have 19 games left, including three at Truist Park in the penultimate series of the season Sept. 24-26.

The Mets lead the majors with a 56-32 record since May 30. Their nine-game winning streak was the team's longest since a nine-game run in April 2018.

Phil Maton (2-3) opened the ninth by plunking Spencer Steer before Ty France legged out an infield single.

Both runners advanced a base on Jake Fraley's groundout before Espinal's hit down the left-field line.

The two-run rally ended an 80-inning streak in which the Mets hadn't trailed, the longest streak in the majors this season.

REDS 1, ASTROS 0

CINCINNATI — Ty France homered in the seventh inning as part of a series sweep in which he went 9 for 11, and the Cincinnati Reds beat Houston 1-0 Thursday for their ninth straight win over the Astros.

Rhett Lowder, the seventh overall pick in the 2023 amateur draft, allowed four hits over 6 1/3 innings in his second big league start.

The 22-year-old right-hander with shoulder-length hair walked four and struck out three.

Tony Santillan (2-2) induced an inning-ending double play in the seventh and worked around a walk in a hitless eighth.

Alexis Díaz pitched a perfect ninth for his 25th save in 29 chances, finishing a four-hitter.

METS 6, REDS 4

Mark Vientos hit a pair of two-run homers, including a leadoff shot in the 10th inning that sent the New York Mets past the Cincinnati Reds 6-4 on Friday night for their eighth consecutive victory.

New York hasn't trailed in 63 innings and is riding its longest winning streak since an eight-game run in August 2019. Vientos also connected in the first for the Mets, who remained tied with rival Atlanta for the last National League wild card. "I think September's the right time to get hot," Vientos said.

Mets closer Edwin Díaz and younger brother Alexis, the Reds' ace reliever, pitched in the same game for the first time in their All-Star careers.

Edwin Díaz struck out all three batters in the top of the ninth, fanning Elly De La Cruz and Spencer Steer with 100 mph fastballs.

Alexis Díaz worked a hitless bottom of the ninth to keep the score tied.

METS 4, REDS 0

Jose Quintana earned his 100th career win with 6 2/3 sharp innings as the surging New York Mets extended their longest winning streak in more than six years Saturday with a 4-0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

A slumping Harrison Bader homered to spark a four-run sixth for the Mets, who have won nine straight games for the first time since April 2018.

Pete Alonso hit a one-out RBI single and J.D. Martinez laced a two-run double with two outs.

New York has outscored its opponents 44-16 during the winning streak.

Francisco Lindor's career-high 16-game hitting streak ended as he went 0 for 3, but his sixth-inning walk pushed his on-base streak to 35 games, the longest active run in the majors and the longest single-season streak in Mets history.

Quintana (8-9) allowed five hits and struck out six in becoming the 19th active pitcher to reach 100 wins.

"You can put that on me," coach Shane Steichen said when asked about Taylor's workload. "Like I could have called more runs. I think we had 19 passes, I don't remember how many carries we had, but we'll look at those things and get that thing cleaned up, learning from tough, close games like this."

If the Colts do get it fixed, and Richardson steadies his performance, the Texans know how much more difficult their path to defending the AFC South title could be.

"We made plays when we had to, but not good enough, right?" coach DeMeco Ryans said. "Got to eliminate the big plays. That's when you give up big points, that equals points."

Chase's longest reception went for 28 yards. Burrow said the lack of deep targets to Chase didn't have as much to do with their lack of time together in camp and more to do with the Patriots' defensive scheme.

"They were taking it away," Burrow said. "They did a good job. They had a good plan. I was just taking what they gave me. We will watch the tape and see if we had some other opportunities to get the ball down the field."

Last season, the Bengals didn't play their starters in any preseason games.

This year, Burrow and the first-team offense played one series in the preseason opener against Tampa Bay.

Such an approach isn't unusual, but the Bengals also had to deal with the distraction surrounding Chase's desire for an extension, which still hasn't been resolved.

"I will leave his business to him," Burrow said. "It was great to have him out there. I thought he played well."

More salient to the Bengals' loss were fumbles by receiver Charlie Jones and tight end Tanner Hudson who had the ball stripped near the goal line.

Chase was flagged for illegal substitution when he failed to leave the field in time before a punt.

"There was execution in a lot of areas that certainly was good enough to win," Taylor said.

"It's not because we don't have the talent, or anything else like that. We lost the turnover battle and we didn't tackle."

It's rare for a team to start 0-2 and reach the playoffs.

The Bengals started the 2022 season with two straight losses, then won the AFC North title before losing to the Chiefs in the AFC championship game. Cincinnati hopes to avoid digging another hole.

"The good thing is we have 16 games left to play," Taylor said. "Starting 0-1 certainly is not a hole we want to be in, but I feel good about how this team will improve."

Madison quarterback Matt McCarty (6) launches a pass during the Cubs' 13-8 loss at Class A No. 2 Providence on Friday.

After stopping the Pioneers twice, Madison took over with just over a minute left to play. The Cubs got to the Providence 48-yard line with 33 seconds to go when an interception iced the win.

A week after collecting just 11 yards of total offense, Madison finished with 263 yards.

McCarty was 13-for-32 passing for 131 yards to five-different receivers with Reynolds' 44 yards on three catches leading the way. Dyer finished with 55 yards rushing on five carries.

Providence had 232 total yards with Kempf going 12-of-19 passing for 118 yards and 40 yards rushing.

Cooper Ross rushed for 60 yards for the Pioneers.

Madison crosses the Ohio River next week to take on Carroll County, now 0-3 and coming off a 43-8 loss at Bardstown Bethlehem. Providence hosts Clarksville next week.

ladies are turning a corner and the short game is showing good signs of improvement. Most importantly, they're learning to play through adversity.

"This team is shaping up a lot like last year's team, where Emmi leads the way and numbers two through five pick each other up and are almost interchangeable, but I think this year's team is a little better."

On Saturday, Madison shot a 413 to finish fifth in the 12-team Batesville Invitational at North Branch Golf Course.

The Cubs struggled on the dry course but Shockley wasn't overly disappointed.

"I don't love seeing a '4' in the first digit with this group, but we didn't play that poorly today. I don't think it affected our position, though," Shockley said. "Everybody struggled out there. I'm familiar with Batesville and New Albany's teams, and their scores were high, too. It was just a tough day."

Dowell shot a 45 to lead the Cubs while Wilson had a 53, Burnette a 54, Miller a 55 and Perry a 56.

"The girls really fought to hold it together. It can really mess with your head when the ball doesn't go where you want it to, especially when you hit a good shot," Shockley said. "I was really pleased with how they kept it together mentally, and they were able to grind out a top-half finish. I wish golf was more of a spectator sport for that reason. The community would be really proud of how well these young women represent our community."

Madison, now 8-1 in dual meets and 48-25 overall, hosts Scottsburg and Silver Creek next Wednesday and travels to Seymour on Thursday.

Southwestern Athletics

Southwestern's Lilly Fox was low medalist at the Ohio River Valley Conference girls golf championships on Saturday.

Hance had a 65.

On Sunday, Trimble's Alana Washington competed in the All "A" Classic State Finals in Richmond. Washington shot a 109 that was good for 43rd place.

Trimble County plays in the North Central Kentucky Conference championships at Fairway on Tuesday. The Raiders then play at Henry County on Wednesday. Trimble's girls play host Henry County on Thursday.
